All the publications were scanned to PDF with OCR (Optical Character Recognition). As always, scanning old documents with OCR is not perfect, but the text can be copied from the files. Please just double check with the PDF image that the text has been recognised correctly and edit if necessary.

The copyright of these documents remains with the Officers of the British Fuchsia Society. However, if you should wish to reproduce a specific article, we ask that you acknowledge the original author, the BFS publication it came from and let the hon BFS Editor know where it has been republished.
